

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR MIAMI-DADE COUNTY, FLORIDA

CARLOS ALVAREZ
MAYOR

April 14, 2008

Bienvenidos!

Byenveni!

Welcome to Miami-Dade County!

Miami-Dade County is proud, once again, to host the National Association of ADA Coordinators National Conference. The spring 2008 conference promises the same level of excellence that ADA professionals expect from NAADAC, including presentations by experts at the US Department of Justice, the US Department of Education, and the US Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. As in past years, this conference is one of the best sources of practical, useful information on ADA compliance.

We hope you will take full advantage of the expertise being shared at the conference. Perhaps in the evenings, after the day's presentations and networking sessions with colleagues, you will also get a chance to explore some of what Miami-Dade County has to offer. Not only does Miami-Dade County strive to deliver excellence every day in providing accessible programs and services to our residents, but this world-class tourist destination also welcomes visitors of all abilities with outstanding dining, shopping, and sun-kissed beaches. As a Finalist in the National Organization on Disability's 2007 Accessible America Contest, Miami-Dade County takes pride in knowing that all of the area's treasures are available to everyone, including people with disabilities.

So, sample some Cuban coffee, try a plate of Haitian griot, or maybe even learn a few Salsa dance steps. Enjoy your time in Miami-Dade County.

Sincerely,
